THIS IS GREATER DOWNTOWN AND KEY NEIGHBORHOOD DESTINATIONS BEYOND THE CENTER

Though only a small part of Detroit's 139-square-mile geography, this is a collection of neighborhoods in the city center and beyond. Like many city centers globally, greater downtown Detroit is a nexus of activity — welcoming residents, employees and visitors. Downtown contains high-rise and low-rise living, some of the city's most storied neighborhoods and many of southeast Michigan's leading educational and medical institutions. Greater downtown Detroit is the center of the city's business world, home to our richest cultural, sports and entertainment assets.

Offering a different vibe than downtown, Mexicantown and the Avenue of Fashion are dense residential neighborhoods anchored by retail corridors that include decades-old small businesses as well as new chic spots. Welcome to Detroit.

DDP PROGRAMS + RESOURCES

Downtown Detroit Partnership (DDP) strives to develop and implement innovative programs and initiatives to enhance the downtown neighborhood.

DOWNTOWN PARKS

Downtown Detroit parks showcase more than 1,000 free live music and other events all year long, and the DDP promotes downtown's public parks as mixed-use spaces for the community. Visit: Campus Martius Park, Cadillac Square, Grand Circus Park, Capitol Park, Spirit of Detroit Plaza and Beacon Park.
Learn more about events and the parks at downtowndetroitparks.com.

GREEKTOWN BY BILL BOWEN

GREEKTOWN

TAKE IN THE PEOPLE, ATMOSPHERE AND AUTHENTIC FEEL OF OLD-WORLD GREECE COMBINED WITH CLASSIC DETROIT NIGHTLIFE.

Walk the streets of Greektown, and discover a little culture, history and a bit of shouting with your cuisine. Just a short distance from the heart of downtown Detroit, this hot spot has served as home to many Greek businesses for more than a century.

This is where you'll find historic churches, one of Detroit's three premier casinos, annual open-air art festivals and a host of Greek-inspired restaurants, bakeries and merchants. Stop by Pegasus Taverna Restaurant. Try the grape leaves, flaming cheese (feel free to yell out "Opa!" in unison with your server) and eggplant-layered moussaka if you've got room left. Want a sweet treat? Make your way to Astoria Pastry Shop, which is overflowing with baklava, sweet egg bread and tortes of all sorts. Then walk it off on the crowded streets of this historic district, and get a true taste of old-world Greece.

CINCO DE MAYO BY JASON VAUGHN

MEXICANTOWN

A VIBRANT COMMUNITY FULL OF CHARACTER, CUISINE AND CULTURE, WHERE WORKING TORTILLA FACTORIES ARE THE REAL DEAL, COLORFUL OUTDOOR MURALS ARE EVERYWHERE AND A CELEBRATION OF THE DEAD ATTRACTS THOUSANDS.

Headed to Mexicantown? Go hungry. With more restaurants per square foot than any other Detroit neighborhood, this area's ethnic eateries are known for service that is always fast and food that is always phenomenal. Treat yourself to a piña colada paired with guacamole, a botana and a Mexican sandwich. Many shops, bakeries and markets can be found back-to-back along the district's main thoroughfares of Bagley Avenue and Vernor Highway.

Mexicantown, nestled in the neighborhood known as southwest Detroit, is a destination defined by vibrant buildings dressed with bright murals and hand-painted signs, the sounds of salsa music and sipping margaritas. It's the hub for some of the city's best festivals, from Cinco de Mayo to the Day of the Dead. And no matter what day it is, the smell of fresh tortillas always seems to be in the air.

CORKTOWN BY BILL BOWEN

CORKTOWN

WITH CHARMING HISTORIC BUILDINGS, FRIENDLY PUBS AND AMAZING RESTAURANTS, DETROIT'S OLDEST NEIGHBORHOOD IS ONE OF ITS MOST POPULAR DESTINATIONS.

Corktown is listed as one of the "50 Most Stylish Neighborhoods in the World" by Complex magazine, combining its long Irish and immigrant history with new, independent retail, restaurants, bars and maker spaces. Home to the famous Michigan Central Station and its adjacent Roosevelt Park, Corktown is one of the fastest-growing neighborhoods in the city.

Redevelopment of the commercial strip along Michigan Avenue has brought an influx of businesses and locally owned bars and restaurants anchored by nationally recognized Slows Bar BQ.

EASTERN MARKET

ON SATURDAYS, THE COUNTRY'S OLDEST FARMERS MARKET IS FULL OF FRUIT, VEGGIES, FLOWERS, FOOD AND MORE. NEW RESTAURANTS, BARS, RETAILERS AND ARTIST STUDIOS ROUND OUT THIS HISTORIC MARKET DISTRICT, WHICH HAS A RENEWED REPUTATION FOR ITS ENTREPRENEURIAL VIBE.

Eastern Market, like so many other Detroit neighborhoods, has experienced monumental growth in recent years. While the signature Saturday market remains a staple, seasonal markets on Sundays and Tuesdays are growing in popularity, too.

Retailers, old and new, are helping to redefine this transforming district, from those offering bulk nuts, candies and favorite Detroit coffee roasts to others selling baked goods, meats and cheeses. Letterpress studios, art galleries and shops with oddball sundries abound, and the food and nightlife scene here is one of Detroit's most eclectic and evolving — from Coney Islands and pizzerias to sports pubs and distilleries producing small-batch artisanal whiskeys.

MIDTOWN

BOASTING UNIQUE ART GALLERIES AND MARKETS, QUIRKY INDEPENDENT RETAIL SHOPS AND SOME OF THE BEST DON'T-WANT-TO-MISS CUISINE IN METRO DETROIT, THIS IS ONE OF THE AREA'S MOST WALKABLE, ECLECTIC COMMUNITIES.

Midtown is one of the fastest-developing areas in Detroit, with a wide array of buildings spanning Detroit's architectural history — from turn-of-the-century mansions and Victorian homes to Albert Kahn-designed masterpieces such as the Fisher Building and Cadillac Place. It also has its share of funky industrial spaces reimagined as lofts, shops and creative incubators.

The 2-square-mile district is home to Wayne State University, nationally recognized medical centers, TechTown, the College for Creative Studies, New Center Park, a robust museum district (including the Detroit Institute of Arts) and numerous restaurants, galleries, community gardens, theaters and markets.

AVENUE OF FASHION BY BILL BOWEN

AVENUE OF FASHION

DETROIT'S HISTORIC SHOPPING DISTRICT IS ALIVE AND WELL TODAY, WITH A NEW MIX OF LOCAL CLOTHING AND ACCESSORY STORES, ART STUDIOS AND GALLERIES, RESTAURANTS, BAKERIES AND SO MUCH MORE.

Encompassing Livernois Avenue between 7 and 8 Mile roads in Detroit, this area is called the Avenue of Fashion because it was a major Detroit shopping district in the 1950s, where people would come for a day of retail therapy.

Today, the Avenue of Fashion is a hub of renewed activity, where hundreds of retailers, wholesale buyers, designers, stylists, students, shoppers and residents are converging.

Park and stroll the area. You'll find everything from apparel and accessories for the entire family to ceramics and Detroit's only fiber studio. Plus, one of the world's oldest jazz clubs calls this area home. Baker's Keyboard Lounge has hosted jazz musicians (just about every one of national importance) since the 1930s.
