WELCOME

Munich, Bavaria's capital, is home to centuries-old buildings and numerous museums. The city is known for its annual Oktoberfest celebration and its beer halls, including the famed Hofbräuhaus, founded in 1589. In the Altstadt (Old Town), central Marienplatz square contains landmarks such as Neo-Gothic Neues Rathaus (town hall), with a popular glockenspiel show that chimes and reenacts stories from the 16th century.

By public transport:

Coming from downtown, take subway line U2 from the main station (Hauptbahnhof) in the direction of Feldmoching and get off at the Am Hart station.

The BMW Research and Innovation Center (FIZ) is located around 3 minutes on foot from the station. Follow the signs for Forschungs- und Innovationszentrum (FIZ) ('Research and Innovation Center [FIZ]') up to the main entrance (courtyard with fountain, foyer with glass roof).

Please register at the reception desk at the FIZ main entrance.

Coming from BMW Welt, drive in the opposite direction of downtown on Lerchenauer Straße. At the first major intersection, turn right onto Moosacherstraße. Follow Frankfurter Ring for one kilometer and then turn onto Knorrstraße. Drive through the tunnel on Knorrstraße. Shortly afterwards, you will see the main entrance to the Research and Innovation Center (FIZ) (courtyard with fountain, foyer with glass roof) and the entrance to the FIZ garage ('BMW Allee') coming up on your left.

Coming from the A9 (airport), follow the signs for München/Stuttgart/Lindau. Take exit 75, München-Frankfurter Ring, and drive onto Frankfurter Ring. Remain on Frankfurter Ring for around 2.5 kilometers, then turn right onto Knorrstraße. After 700m, you will see the main entrance to the Research and Innovation Center (FIZ) (courtyard with fountain, foyer with glass roof) and the entrance to the FIZ garage ('BMW Allee') coming up on your right.

Registration and parking:

The garage opposite the FIZ main entrance (Knorrstraße 147, corner of BMW Allee) is open 24/7. A spot will have been reserved for you. Please park and then register at the reception desk at the FIZ main entrance.

TRANSPORTATION: FROM THE AIRPORT TO CITY CENTER

How to get to Munich from the airport

There are a number of different ways to get to the city centre from Munich Airport, depending on your budget and how much time you've got:

S-Bahn: Lines S1 (light blue) and S8 (orange) of the S-Bahn, or Urban Rapid Transit Train, connects both terminals of the airport with a number of stations in the city centre from 4 am through to 1 am. There are departures every 10 minutes and the journey to the main train station (Hauptbahnhof) takes 40 minutes. A one-way ticket costs € 11.90 (US$ 13.75), but you can purchase a “stripe card” of which you use 7 stripes for 10,22€ or a one-day travelcard for € 13,20 (US$ 15.10) if you have other trips planned. To reach most of the hotels and BMW, you can use the same ticket to change from the S1 into the underground either at Feldmoching or Moosach.

Lufthansa Express Bus: The Airport Bus takes passengers from both terminals of Munich Airport to the Hauptbahnhof (45 minutes), making a stop in the Schwabing district in the north of the city (25 minutes), which is where most of the hotels and BMW are located. You can order a taxi to the Munich north bus stop with the bus driver. From Munich to the airport, buses depart from 6:30 am to 10:30 pm; from the airport to the city centre, it's 5:15 am to 8 pm. Departures are every 15 minutes and tickets are 10.50 (US$ 12.20) single and € 17 (US$ 19.70) return.

Transfer service: The most comfortable, easiest and quickest option: reserve a private transfer service and a driver will be waiting for you at arrivals with a sign showing your name, and will take you directly to your hotel in around 40 minutes. Prices start from € 90 (US$ 104.30) per vehicle, and you can pre-book here.

Taxi: A taxi from the airport to the city centre is usually around € 70 (US$ 80.90) and the drive lasts about 40 minutes.

Uber: Ubers are also available, please download the app.

TRANSPORTATION: BY SUBWAY

Munich's public-transportation system, the MVV, has two rapid-transit networks:

- The U-Bahn (Untergrundbahn), which is an underground or subway system for the city of Munich, with stations at or near such attractions as the Schwabing district, the major parks, the BMW Museum, the Allianz Arena, and the Oktoberfest grounds. Operate every 5 to 15 minutes.
- The S-Bahn (Stadtschnellbahn), which serves both Munich and its suburbs. S-Bahn trains run between the city's two central railroad stations (the Hauptbahnhof and the Ostbahnhof), serve outlying places of interest such as the Dachau Concentration Camp Memorial, and provide frequent transportation between the city and Munich International Airport. Operates every 20-30 minutes.

The two systems are tightly integrated and use a common ticketing scheme. The most obvious difference between the two is the color of the trains: U-Bahn trains are blue and white; S-Bahn trains are red and white.

<<<< The U-Bahn,
Munich's Metro

How to ride the U-Bahn and S-Bahn:

1. Buy a ticket. Prices range from €3.40 for a single ticket covering one zone, €2.92 for two stripes from the stripe card and from €7.90 for a one-day travelcard around the inner city area.

You can purchase tickets from a vending machine in any U-Bahn or S-Bahn station. Tickets come in four basic types:

Einzelfahrkarten, or single-journey point-to-point tickets are the most expensive. You can break your journey and use different modes of transportation (e.g., S-Bahn, U-Bahn, and tram or bus) if you wish. Within Munich, press "1" on the machine for a single zone; for longer trips, you'll need to choose a ticket for the appropriate number of zones. (See the explanatory text in the top left section of the machine.)

Streifenkarten, or stripe tickets, are cheaper than single-journey tickets. They can be used for multiple trips, or by several people at once. You validate one or more stripes per journey, depending on your destination and the number of travelers sharing the ticket. (Again, see the machine for instructions.)

Single-Tageskarten and Partner-Tageskarten, or single and partner day tickets, allow unlimited transportation from the time they're stamped until 6 a.m. the next day. You can buy them for individuals or for a group of up to five people.

Finally, the CityTour Card comes in one-day and three-day versions, for either the city proper or the entire Munich area. In addition to unlimited public transportation, it entitles you to discounts at many museums and other attractions.

2. Validate your ticket or City Tour Card.

Use one of the blue time-stamping machines near the station entrance. (If you travel with an unstamped ticket or card, you'll be subject to a hefty fine.)

How to ride the U-Bahn and S-Bahn Continued:

3. Take the stairs, escalator, or elevator to the train platform.

You won't need to insert your ticket in a turnstile; once you've validated your ticket, you're on the honor system (although you'll have to show your ticket to an inspector if asked).

4. Check the electronic sign

Signs above the platform indicate train numbers, destinations, and where to stand on the platform for the train (look for the overhead sector signs labeled A, B, C, and D).

5. Board the train when it arrives

If necessary, press the button on the doors to open them, and let other passengers get off before you get on

6. Exit the train on the left or right, depending on where the station platform is.

In a few central locations, such as the Hauptbahnhof, there are two platforms: you leave via the right-hand doors, and new passengers board through the doors on the left.

Please refer to the next page for the subway map.
Note: The orange highlighted stations are close to BMW.

TRANSPORTATION: BY BUS/TRAM

Operating times -BUSES

Munich's bus network operates daily: most lines run from 5 am to 1 am with buses departing every 10 to 20 minutes. There are also night buses covering the main routes throughout the night.

Operating times - TRAMS

The 13 daytime lines operate daily from 4:45 am to 1:30 am, and the 4 nighttime routes run daily from 1:30 am to 4:30 am.

Fees

Tickets for Munich's public transport network are the same for every mode of transport. Prices range from €2.90 for a single ticket covering one zone, and from €6.70 for a one-day travelcard around the inner city area. Check out all the different options on our guide to Ticket prices and travelcards in Munich.

TRANSPORTATION: BY TAXI

Munich's taxis are cream colored and have a TAXI sign on the roof. All of them use a taxi meter, and you can catch them either by flagging them down, waiting at a stop, or by calling them up in advance.

Taxi fares

- Initial charge: € 3.70 (US$ 4.30)
- Price per kilometre up to 5 km: € 1.90 (US$ 2.20)
- Price per kilometre from 5 km to 10 km: € 1.70 (US$ 2)
- Price per kilometre after 10 km: € 1.60 (US$ 1.90)
- Price per hour of waiting: € 28 (US$ 32.40)

The average taxi journey around Munich city centre usually costs between € 10 (US$ 11.60) and € 12 (US$ 13.90). A taxi from the airport to the city centre is usually around € 50 (US$ 57.90) and the drive lasts about 40 minutes.

Taxi companies

If you need to pre-book a taxi in Munich, or can't find one in the streets, we've listed three of the biggest taxi companies below. Like many other cities, Munich also has a number of taxi apps available to use.

- Taxi-München eG: +49 / (0)89/21 610.
- Taxi Zentrale Freising: +49 (0)8161 36 66.
- IsarFunk: +49 / (0)89/450540.

At Munich Airport, various testing options for the SARS-CoV-2 coronavirus are offered in the public area and in Terminal 2. They can be used by travelers as well as all other persons. Returning travelers still have access to a testing center in the non-public area in Terminal 2 (near the baggage carousels).
