

Get Direct Access to IEEE Standards and Products for Your Customers

IEEE Standards Association (IEEE-SA) knows the value of essential information in today's technological era. Being able to offer your customers our products could be key to helping you offer valuable information to your customers while helping to grow your bottom line.

Through the IEEE Standards Association's Distributor Reseller Program, you can do just that.

How it works

1. Contact us with your request to become an IEEE Standards Distributor
2. Review and accept the terms, conditions, and technical requirements of the program
3. Sign the contract
4. Set up the required XML data feed to get the IEEE content for your online store
5. Receive ongoing promotional support for your customer base, plus an annual review of your progress

IEEE Products Available through the Distributor Program
