5. OLD BUSINESS

5.1. DISCUSSION - RECOMMENDATION ON REVIEW PERIOD COMMENT TIMEFRAMES

This discussion continued from the March 2020 NesCom meeting when the ad hoc previously formed to address the topic of review period comment timeframes presented feedback received from its recommendations. Chair Stanley took the action to continue the discussions about setting expectations for NesCom review comments and replies, and the appropriate way to make the expectations known and to see if there is interest in moving forward with the recommendations.

Following the discussion during this meeting, a motion was made (Winston) and seconded (Zhong) to approve the recommended changes to the NesCom Conventions with updates from this meeting.

Motion: Approve the following changes to NesCom Convention #8, to be implemented by 30 December 2020. These changes update the convention to add guidance on timely comment submittal by committee members: NesCom Convention 8, see https://standards.ieee.org/about/sasb/nescom/conv.html. In the absence of objection, the motion was approved.

a. Responsibility of NesCom member - Each NesCom member should post preliminary votes and any comments during the first 2 weeks of the “Review” period (“Individual Review” period, typically a one week interval, and the first week of the “Open Review” period). Each NesCom member should review comments and comment dialog during the "Review" period as needed, and at the latest, by the Friday prior to the scheduled NesCom meeting.

b. Responsibility of Standards Committee/Working Group Chair - It is important that comments be resolved during the "Open Review" period, and prior to the NesCom meeting. If a NesCom member posts a comment, an initial response is requested from the Standards Committee/Working Group Chair within one week. This allows sufficient time for any required follow-up actions such as additional NesCom member comments to the response and for changes to be applied to the PAR. If the Standards Committee/Working Group Chair fails to respond to NesCom member comments by the Friday prior to the scheduled NesCom meeting, the PAR may be deferred to the next meeting, or disapproved.

NB: This update has been made to NesCom Convention 8.
